RE: East Lawrence Re-Zoning

Dear Diane and City Commissioners:

As a resident of the East Lawrence Neighborhood at 941 Pennsylvania Street, and as an active member of the Horizon 2020 Steering Committee, I am writing to ask that you defer Agenda Item #6 until the Issue Action Report can be processed and the Comprehensive Plan can be appropriately updated. This is especially important due to the recent uncertainty with the current City Commission.

Having worked with Seattle's Low Income Housing Institute for 7 years, the idea that deteriorating single family homes can provide safe, sustainable low-income housing is concerning. The homes in the area in question are over 100 years old and have at least 30 years of deferred maintenance. They no longer meet building code standards and are some of the most energy inefficient housing units in the city.

Serious low income housing developers know that the most energy efficient, sustainable and effective housing types are multi-family close to urban cores which help to reduce reliance on cars and provide access to cultural amenities.

Down-zoning a multi-family zone so close to our urban core will erode the already fragile low-income housing stock we have in Lawrence. As these home age, and residents and landlords pass away, these homes will go on the market as distressed properties. If they are zoned single family, the only potential buyers will be those that have the means to invest a significant amount of money to enjoy the luxury of a prime downtown location. The result in 20 years will be a mono-culture neighborhood of high income earners or retirees without children.

Average household size has dropped from 4.5 to 2.3 people per household over the last 60 years. In East Lawrence we have had very little change in the number of units and therefore neighborhood population has dropped considerably to the point that we nearly lost the New York School. We have addressed this in the work we have done on the Horizon 2020 plan which calls for added density to reduce the expansion of city Infrastructure and reliance on the automobile.

A balanced mix of diverse housing and businesses is vital for a thriving neighborhood. Please do your research on the negative impacts of single use zoning and the long term consequences of restricting more people from living closer to downtown. Consider that there are alternatives, such as Form Based Zoning Codes to consider as well.

Sincerely,

John A. Gascon

RE: East Lawrence Rezoning (north of 9th)

As a result of the recently proposed development activity within East Lawrence, some residents have become concerned the area north of 9th is not zoned to current use and current zoning could encourage development that would be out of step with those existing uses. Please use this as our ELNA official request to begin the process to rezone this area to current use. Our goal is to tackle these rezoning issues immediately and then investigate initiating an Urban Conservation Overlay District for all of properties surrounding the East Ninth Project Area. These initiatives were supported by a unanimous vote from the Citizen's Advisory Committee to the East Ninth Project.

This downzoning initiative has been actively pursued independently to the ninth street project and we provide this summary as to what has been done already. A team of three people, Cynthia Trask (842 New York), Pamela Blackburn (830 Connecticut) and Rae Johnson (720 Rhode Island), conducted a straw poll of the area to determine interest of existing property owners in this rezoning initiative. Property owners were advised of basic definitions of rezoning and of urban conservation overlay. They were advised this effort was not to zone the entire area to one zone but instead to zone to current use. Most properties in the neighborhood are single-family homes zoned to RM24. The primary method of contact was knocking on doors. Some responded to articles in the bi-monthly ELNA newsletter and a few were contacted by phone. A direct mailing to property owners was not done at this time. We have attached all of our results.

Summary of results:

48 properties are owner occupied unattached residences
29 properties are in favor of rezoning to current usage
2 properties are not in favor of any change in current zoning
15 properties were not available for comment (at least 2 attempts were made to the property owner)

49 properties were contacted (both owner occupied and non-owner occupied)
45 properties are in favor of rezoning to current usage
4 properties are not in favor of any change in current zoning

We look forward to working with City Staff and all the folks in the affected area to build strong consensus for this pursuit.

Sincerely,

Pam Blackburn
Secretary, East Lawrence Neighborhood Association
